ILL HEALTH.—Numerous diseases arise or cannot be got rid of by reason of Impurities of Blood. GOLD DOCTOR JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA has now for nearly half a century been prescribed in all such cases. Its cleansing, tonic, and restorative qualities render it peculiarly efficacious in cases of Biliousness, Disordered Stomach or Liver, Headache, Skin, Blotches, Piles, and ailments arising from a tainted state of the blood or debilitated constitution. To those living in crowded cities or in unhealthy districts its effects are magical. Many remedies for particular diseases fail in consequence of the enfeebled and impure state of the system. Cleanse, strengthen, and purify the system and blood, and maladies which have long proved incurable will vanish or yield to other remedies.

In conjunction with this invaluable Preparation may, with great advantage, be taken the OLD DOCTOR'S SARSAPARILLA PILLS, aperient and alterative, but not purgative. Wholesale Agents Messrs. Bathgate and Co., for Bengal and Calcutta; Messrs Barry and Co., Vepery, Madras; Messrs. Treacher and Co., Bombay, Byculla, and Poona; or at the arasparilla Depot, 131, Fleet Street, London.

☞ Notice.—Fraudulent imitations of old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Sarsaparilla are being sold. The genuine is sold only in Red and Blue Wrappers, the Old Dr's head is the centre, and the British Government stamp affixed.

BILLIARD TABLES.

THE undoubted and established superiority of C. L. & Co.'s Billiard Tables is amply proved by the constant and increasing demand for them, showing that they are really the only tables now appreciated in India. This success is due to the steadfast efforts C. L. & Co. have always exerted to supply their constituents with really trustworthy and reliable articles at as moderate a price as is compatible with good workmanship and material. The generous and liberal support extended to C. L. & Co. for upwards of half a century, is sufficient proof that their endeavours to render satisfaction have been appreciated by a critical and discerning public.

While the superiority of C. L. & Co.'s Billiard Tables has been universally admitted in India, yet the difficulties and risks of transport have hitherto prevented their friends in Bombay from largely availing themselves of the undoubted advantages offered by C. L. & Co.

Now, however, C. L. & Co. beg to intimate to their patrons in the Western Presidency, that they have made arrangements which will enable them to offer their Billiard Tables at the same prices in Bombay as in Calcutta. A Branch Agency, under the management of Messrs. SOUNDY & Co., has been established at No. 22, Rampart Row, where Billiard Tables of C. Lazarus & Co.'s manufacture are arranged for sale ; and while thanking their constituents for the patronage hitherto extended to their Firm, C. L. & Co. venture to express a hope that, with the increased facilities now offered, their manufactures will be as well known in Bombay as they are already in other parts of India.

BILLIARD CUSHIONS.

C. Lazarus & Co. always keep on hand a large stock of their new and improved COMBINATION EXPRESS Billiard Cushions which can be fitted to any table, the exact length and breadth of the slate-bed being the only information required.

Old Billiard Cushions, if the woodwork is in good condition, can be renewed on the new COMBINATION EXPRESS principle, thereby making an old table as good as new.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

C. Lazarus & Co. guarantee the SAFE ARRIVAL of their Billiard Tables at any Station in India. Should any breakage occur in transit, C. L. & Co. agree to make good the loss without further charge.

BILLIARD LAMPS.

The six-light telescopic lamp, on the duplex principle, to burn kerosine oil, as adapted by C. L. & Co., is the best Billiard lamp ever introduced.

C. L. & Co. have always on hand a large assortment of Billiard, Pool and Pyramid Balls, in Ivory or "Patent Celluloid," Billiard Cloth, of the finest quality only, Cues, Tips, Chalks, Cement and every requisite for the Billiar Room.

Personal inspection of the new apparatus and its accessories is requested, and full practical instructions for using the Machine will be given to the agents or to the servants of purchasers.

The mode of producing Ice is by means of a Pneumatic Machine ; the air in the Decanter or Vase is exhausted by the action of the air-pump, and the moisture arising from rapid evaporation, absorbed by the Sulphuric Acid contained in the Cylinder B, and intense cold in the Decanter or Vase, is the result of reducing the water to Ice.

For use in Up-country Stations, Messes, Hotels, Hospitals, and on board Ship, these Machines will be found invaluable ; and their portability renders them most serviceable for Camp use. Within fifteen minutes the Machine can be fitted together, charged with acid, and the water at 85 deg. Fahrenheit can be reduced to freezing point.

An Illustrated Pamphlet, containing full directions for use accompanies each Machine.

THE ARCTIC RE

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

FRIDAY EVENING, 20TH JUNE 1879.

Consols in London yesterday were still quoted at 97¼ and French Rentes at 116¼, but in Enfaced Rupee Paper Fours are quoted ¼ lower at 77½, while Fours-and-a-half remain at 83½.

The Bank of England return for the week ending on Wednesday evening shows a further improvement, the proportion of the Reserve to Liabilities having advanced from 54⅞ to 56⅛ per cent. The Reserve has increased by £100,000 and Bullion by £800,000 while Discounts are less by £100,000. In the open market also Money has evidently an easier tendency, the rate of discount on 3 months, Bills being quoted at 1⅛ against 1⅛ per cent. last week.

In the General Produce markets there is no change of any kind to notice.

Piece Goods in Manchester are reported dull, and Cotton in Liverpool closed dull, Surats quiet, the day's sales being estimated at 6,000 bales. Spot prices are unchanged with the exception of a decline of 1-16d. in Hingunghaut. From New York the advices are a shade firmer, Ready Mid. Uplands having recovered from 12¼ to 12 5-16 cents., and September shipments from 12·10 to 12·22 cents., per lb. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date are as follows:—

This week.	Last week.	1878.	1879.
Tuesday's Receipts ——	1,000	1,200	600
Six days' do. 5,000	6,000	8,000	6,200
Total since 1st Sept. 4,401,500	...	4,191,500	3,906,000

Bar Silver in London is quoted by Reuter unchanged at 52½d. per oz., and shipments are advised by last week's P. and O. steamer from Southampton of £31,000 in Silver and £21,000 in Gold for this port. The statement made by Prince Bismark in the German Parliament yesterday, as telegraphed through Reuter, however, places the Silver question in a very different light from what it was previously. Taken as it reads, the announcement would simply mean that so far from having entirely ceased selling Silver, sales are only now suspended owing to the depreciation in the value of the metal, and in that event we should simply come back to the position as it was a week ago, viz.—what price would bring out the German Government again as sellers. The statement, however, is so directly opposed, not only to the information forwarded by the British Ambassador at Berlin, but to the authoritative announcement made by Mr. Goschen in the House of Commons, that we are inclined to accept it with some reserve; and although it may be literally true that the German Gold standard is not to be interfered with, there must, we fancy, be good grounds for assuming that Germany will require the unrealised balance of her Old Silver for new coinage or such statements would never have been. However that may be, there can be no doubt though that the question as it stands has much more uncertainty than we had reason to believe, and until we have more definite intelligence we must be prepared for the value of the Rupee being very unsettled, although we do not anticipate rates declining to the lowest point of the season.

Exchange, as was to be expected, opened with a very weak feeling owing to the telegraphic advice above noticed, and rates were reduced ⅛d. in Bank and 1-16d. per Rupee in private paper. At the decline, however, some of the Banks were willing sellers, not only for ready but for forward delivery, and there has been nothing like a collapse in the market, showing pretty clearly that the general opinion takes pretty much the same view of the case as we have expressed. Even looking at in the most unfavourable light we are now at a comparatively moderate level, and should any serious decline take place we do not think it would be permanent. We now quote :—

Bank Bills on demand	...1s. 3d.	per Rupee.
Do. 6 months' sight	...1s. 8¼d.	,,
Credits, 8 ,, ,,	...1s. 8 5-16d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,,	...1s. 8¾d.	,,
France, 8 ,, ,,	.2·14.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at ½ per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at 1 per cent. discount.

Government Paper has been very quiet, and prices at the close have an easier tendency. We quote :—Fours, Rs. 93; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 99.

Shares.—The market remains dull in the extreme, and any changes in prices have been in favour of buyers, amongst whom, however, there are very few legitimate investors. Bank of Bombays are ½ per cent. lower at Rs. 676½. In Land companies there is no alteration, and in Press shares we have only to notice a decline of Rs. 10 in Berar and Rs. 5 in Mofussil Spinning and Weaving companies become more depressed daily, and with few exceptions our list of quotations shows a general decline of Rs. 10 to Rs. 20 per share.

Cotton has not altered in any way, and we have not heard of a single purchase for export worthy of notice. Sellers, although anxious to do business, are reluctant to accept any material reduction in prices, and business, to any extent, would only be practicable at something like Rs. 6 to Rs. 7 per candy under present currencies. Nominal quotations now are :—

Good Ginned Broach	.....	238 per candy	F. P.
Good Omra	..... ,,	230 ,,	,,
F.G.F. do	..... ,,	225 ,,	,,
G.F. do	..... ,,	220 ,,	,,
Good Dhollera	..... ,,	227 ,,	,,
F.G.F. do	..... ,,	221 ,,	,,
G.F. do	..... ,,	216 ,,	,,

Freights are practically unchanged. For Liverpool by steamer there is some enquiry at 25s., but by sail there is nothing doing, the one vessel berthed holding for 20s. while shippers do not offer more than 15s. The s. s. Euphrates has taken the berth for Havre and London, booking, it is said, about 1,000 tons for the former and 300 tons for the latter port at 27s. 6d. For Havre by sail rates are still offering at 15s. per ton. For other ports there is no change.

Piece Goods remain as dull as ever, and clearances from the bazaar are only some 150 packages per diem. Sellers would be willing to accept a slight concession in price to induce business of importance, but as the market now is, it is scarcely a question of rate and little is likely to be done now until the rains have made further progress.

Coals continue quiet with very little demand, but in the absence of business prices are nominally unchanged.

The Bombay Gazette

SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1879.

The news published this morning will cause much regret wherever the English tongue is spoken. For whatever they may have thought about him in France, the Prince Imperial in England had endeared himself in the hearts of the people who admired the high-spirited manly young fellow who was never more happy than when in the society of the English officers, who were his chosen companions. His success at Woolwich is still fresh in our memories, where, in competition with the best of England's youth, he stood seventh on the list of a class of thirty-four in an examination that only those who possess the keenest and most powerful intellects can hope to pass. And when the news from Natal arrived, we know how he at once determined upon joining his former companions in roughing it in the field, and in completing his education—by a turn of hard active service—for the profession of a soldier which he had adopted. He strenuously petitioned, we were told, for a commission, but failing to overcome the unavoidable objections to that proposal, he resolved to go out as a volunteer and to attach himself in that capacity to the column that was most likely to see the sharpest fighting. This announcement was heard throughout the country with much sympathy, for it showed at a critical time a flattering faith in the superiority of British arms; and in France, although they were silent, the great mass of the people must have been gratified at the high-spirited chivalry displayed by the representative of a name which, after all, most Frenchmen must in their hearts cherish as that of the greatest genius their country ever produced. In Paris, the announcement of the Prince's impending departure to the seat of war caused a quiet, although considerable, impression, and the following farewell letter which the Prince addressed to M. Rouher as explaining his motives for the step he was taking, was eagerly read :—

My dear M. Rouher,—I am about to leave Europe, and my absence may last some months. I have too many faithful friends in France to remain silent as to the motives of my absence. For the last eight years I have been the guest of England. I completed my education in one of her military schools, and on various occasions I have drawn closer the bonds that unite me to the English army by participating in its great manœuvres. The war England has been carrying on for more than one year past at the Cape of Good Hope has just assumed a character of gravity which it had not had heretofore. I wish to follow its operations, and will embark in the days to come. In France, where, thank God, party spirit has not destroyed the military spirit, it will be understood that I should wish not to remain a stranger to the fatigues and dangers of troops among whom I number so many comrades. The time I shall devote to that struggle of civilisation against barbarism will not be lost for me. Far or near, my thoughts will ever be for France. I shall follow with interest, and without anxiety, the gradual phases she will go through, as I feel sure that God protects her. I rely upon it that during my absence the partisans of the Imperial cause will remain united and confident, and will continue to give the country the spectacle of party possessing the feelings of the most ardent patriotism.—Receive, my dear M. Rouher, the assurance of my sincere friendship,

Napoleon.

Camden Place, Chislehurst, Feb. 25, 1879.

These are the farewell words to France of one who was practically the last of the Napoleons, and his countrymen will remember them—in conjunction with the sad fate that has overtaken the writer—with feelings of sorrowful regret. Speculation as to what the turn of events would have brought round for the Prince had he lived are now useless, for with his death dies that cause of Imperialism in France which so much occupied his young and hopeful ambition. We saw the other day that on arriving in Natal he pushed forward with all speed in the endeavour to join Colonel Wood's command previous to the fight that was then impending, and it was pointed out at the time that had he not been prevented—much to his own disappointment—from following up the column, he would probably have been in the cavalry affair at Kumbula Hill, where so many brave men met before him the death, that he was still not the less fated to meet.

Napoleon III. we know was exceedingly proud of his son and was always much pleased whenever he acquired fresh proofs of the numerous good qualities that distinguished the Prince. The presence of the latter near him was the most certain and efficacious balm for the cruel injuries and depression from which he suffered during those latter and dark days at Chislehurst. His greatest consolation was always to see revived in his son the ideas and ambitions that had exercised the most powerful influence over his own life. It may be remembered that the Prince only arrived from Woolwich at Chislehurst the week before his father's death. The story was thus told by one who was present :—

"The Prince was received at the door of the vestibule of Camden Place by Count Daviller; but he was still ignorant of the misfortune which had just befallen him. The Count announced to him that the Emperor was in the utmost danger. Painfully agitated, he rushed along the passages, and, after falling down and rising again, ran to the apartments of his father, crying out to those that followed him, "After all, if a misfortune has happened, why not tell me of it? I have courage enough to bear anything.' Saying these words, he reached the threshold of the chamber of death. There he met the Empress. The mother threw herself into the arms of her son, saying, 'I have nothing left but you, Louis!' The Prince was pierced to the heart by the dread reality. He rushed into the room, and, throwing himself upon the foot of the bed, pronounced, in a loud voice, and without shedding a tear, a short and touching prayer; then he embraced the Emperor. His calmness and restrained grief were terrible; but it was too much for him, and he was led away from the mournful spectacle. When he heard the account of the last moments of his illustrious father he burst into tears."

Perhaps the poor widowed Empress now left alone and solitary in her sorrow—an exile too—is more even to be pitied than the young Prince whose death—although received at the hand of a savage—will still be remembered by posterity with sympathy and admiration. The Queen in extending her condolence to Eugenie, will represent the nation not only in name but in heart, for her's is a case that always arouses in Englishmen a sympathy most real. Her sad future—should she long survive this blow—cannot be contemplated without feelings of pain and sorrow. She is half English by blood and to us by Trinculo in the Tempest, and Hayden altogether so by education, and it was said of her in those days when she shone at the Tuileries as the first lady in France, that her dignity, elegance, and beauty, was more of the aristocratic English than of the Spanish style. She was married to the Emperor on 29th January 1853 at Notre Dame. The Prince was born on March 16th 1856, so that he had just completed his twenty-third year. Prince Napoleon—of whose career we give a slight sketch elsewhere—is now at the head of the Napoleon family, but he is no favourite in France, and is not likely to prove a good representative of the Imperial cause, which will now probably altogether die out, leaving the Orleans Princes the only claimants to the throne of France.

Further news from the Cape will now be awaited with much anxiety. The British army has again invaded Zulu territory—still under the command of a General in whom the nation has no confidence—and in a day or two will probably be engaged with King Cetewayo's redoubtable savages. The other day we published extracts from the Natal papers of a later date than that received by the Mail, and it may have been noticed from the reports which had reached the colony that Cetewayo had declared his firm intention of making the next fight a struggle in the open, and that he would attack our troops while on the march. We trust that our forces will not again permit themselves to be taken by surprise, as if attacked in the struggling condition in which the relieving column entered Ekowe, the results are sure to be disastrous. The affair in which the poor young Prince Imperial met his death is most significant. He was out reconnoitring with cavalry who were sure to have been well on the look out for the enemy—but although mounted, even they fell into a trap. The telegram does not say that the party he was with were all killed, and it is probable that the Prince himself was singly surprised when separated from his companions. We must hope that King Cetewayo will attack, and attack in force, for his wisest plan of course would be to retreat and spread his men about the country and engage us in a desultory warfare that might last for months. If he attempts a stand up fight with his whole army, however, we shall have an opportunity afforded us of administering to him a defeat from which he may not be able to recover. Much anxiety has been felt about the composition of the troops who are now to be engaged. The greater number of them are only boys, but we must hope that the time they have been together in the field will have given them the necessary confidence in each other.

As we anticipated yesterday, France is acting in the Egyptian affair in strict accordance with England, and Mr. Smith's statement to the effect that no difference existed between the two countries, was practically not far from the truth. It was probably previously arranged that France should move first in the matter in order that the Beaconsfield Cabinet might be put right with the country, for of course no Englishman—to whatever party he might belong—would argue that we should allow our neighbours across the Channel to act without us in Egypt. It remains to be seen what Ismail Pasha will now do. We think that, judging from his previous history, he will endeavour at the last moment to submit, in which case England would probably advise moderation. If he resists the two Western Powers have a most unpleasant task before them, for the Arab population at least are now at one with the Khedive in opposing the foreigner. His troops, however, judging from the Russo-Turkish campaign and the recent Egyptian expedition to Abyssinia are not of much account, and a very moderate sized Anglo-French expedition would suffice for the work. Ismail Pasha, however, is far more likely to make the best terms that he can, either to abdicate peacefully or to consent to do as he is told.

The statement made by Prince Bismarck in the German Parliament to the effect that the German Government did not contemplate any change in the laws regarding a gold currency recently adopted in that country is somewhat bewildering when compared with recent news on the same subject. First, we were told that the British Ambassador at Berlin, in notifying to his Government the determination of Germany to suspend her sales of silver, said that it was believed that the Germans were preparing to adopt a double standard like France. Then, again, Mr. Goschen, who is not likely to be mistaken, affirmed in the House of Commons that he had authority to state that Germany did not contemplate disposing of any more of her silver. A little consideration will show, however, that these two statements are quite compatable with that now made by Prince Bismarck. As we remarked the other day, when commenting upon the news furnished by our Berlin Ambassador, although Germany may not mean to resume the free coinage of silver—which the adoption of a double standard would imply—that need not prevent her from sending her remaining ten millions of silver back into circulation to increase the supplementary silver money now current, while to do that it is not at all necessary that she should "amend the law relating to the gold standard." She may have been induced to take that course owing to the depreciation in the value of the metal under which she was becoming a heavy loser, while once having determined to use up her silver in that way, it would not matter to her what effect Prince Bismarck's statement might have on the silver market. Indeed he may, for all we know, be contemplating even a larger addition to the silver currency of the country than ten millions, in which case his Government would be a buyer instead of a seller, and might not therefore wish to see the metal rise too much in value. At present, we know for a fact that, the Austrian Government are making a profit out of the scarcity of small coinage now prevailing in Germany. That Government has recently monopolized the coinage of silver in its mints, and as the new dollars it is turning out are finding their way across the border—at a price, of course, far above their intrinsic worth—the Austrian Government, we repeat, are gainers by the transaction. So, by meeting themselves the want that exists for small coin, the German Government will transfer this gain to themselves and at the same time they will avoid the loss involved by forcing their surplus stock of silver on the London market. The position, however, continues to be one of great uncertainty, as it is doubtful to what extent Germany will go on receiving, and it is a question whether with a high price for silver again ruling, she would not be tempted to once more become a seller. So long as this uncertainty exists we cannot expect a very material rise, either in the value of bar silver or in exchange, and it remains to be seen whether our Government—who are above all others interested—will not take steps to induce Prince Bismarck to definitely declare his intentions one way or the other.

LOSS OF THE S.S. THESSALY.

Intelligence was received in Bombay yesterday of the total loss of this steamer, which left here on Saturday the 7th inst. She belonged to the McIver line, and was commanded by Captain F. Harboard. All on board were rescued by the s.s. Tuscany, which left Bombay 12 hours after the Thessaly. The disaster took place, we believe, near Aden. The following are the names of the passengers who proceeded in the Thessaly :—Mr. Alfred Cooper, Miss Marshal, Mr. A. C. Boyd, and Mr. John Perry.

VERESCHAGIN'S INDIAN PICTURES.

Our in India we cherish the notion that the good people at home delight in learning about the surroundings of our exiled lives, and are so interested in the subject that they flock in hundreds to Indian exhibitions. The truth is the British public will take almost any pill that is properly gilded and thrust down its throat with sufficient advertisement, but it does not discover merit for itself. It may be coaxed to any silly show if an entrepenuer of boldness and volubility takes the thing in hand, and it will leave the most "legitimate attraction" to starve, unless a clever showman interfere. The philosophy of English shows, however, was long since set forth by Trinculo in the Tempest, and Heyden found how little chance historical art had against Mr. Barnum and General Tom Thumb.

The India Museum—(interesting among other things as one of the "home charges" we are hearing of)—is a case in point. Here is matter brave enough in truth for a capital show, but clumsily set forth and imperfectly advertised. Its Halls of Balclutha provide a penal settlement for policemen, a

LORD NORTHBROOK ON THE INDIAN BUDGET.

LONDON, JUNE 20.

In the House of Lords last night, Lord Northbrook, in contrasting the Indian Budget of 1876 with that of 1879, complained of the remission of the Indian import duties on cotton, but otherwise expressed his approval of the policy of the Indian Government.

Lord Cranbrook said that it was just that the expenses of the Afghan war should be borne by India because it was purely an Indian war. He doubted the possibility of economy in military staffs, and defended the remission of the Import Duties on Cotton because they were protectionist.

NOTE.—The returns from the Fort and Byculla are made up o 6 p.m. each day. The return from Colaba is up to midnight.

At the High Court yesterday, the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley gave his decision in the matter of the Broach Mills Company, on the disputed claim of Gangadas Vizbhoocundas and Kessowjee Jadowjee, brokers to the company, who held two promissory notes for Rs. 25, 000 each, dated 11th March 1878, payable one year after date. The original claim was for Rs. 70,1.70 which, after deducting the amount realised by the sale of yarn on behalf of the company, was reduced to Rs. 48,000. The liquidators (Messrs. F. R. Vicajee and Eduljee Nusserwanjee Setna) admitted Rs. 43,963 to be due, but disputed the claim for interest. The present was a voluntary liquidation, continued under the supervision of the court. Mr. Prescot had contended on behalf of the liquidators that no interest should be allowed after the 6th November 1878, the day the company went into liquidation. His Lordship was of opinion that, the notes having been made payable twelve months after the date they bore, there was no interest due at the date of the winding up ; and on the authorities cited by the Advocate General for the creditors, his Lordship allowed the interest now claimed. The next point was whether the claimants were entitled to rank as creditors for the whole amount claimed by them, or only for the balance due after they had realized certain monies by the sale of yarn. This point also his Lordship decided in favour of the claimants, who were entitled to rank as creditors for the full amount. The costs of the liquidators and of the creditors were directed to be paid out of the estate.

MR. J. D. INVERARITY, who held the office of Examiner in Insolvency, left Bombay for a time by the Mail steamer yesterday. Nobody has been nominated to succeed him ; and we hear it is in contemplation to abolish the appointment. Mr. Inverarity will be missed by a host of suitors in Bombay.

THE restrictions imposed by the necessities of war on the grant of furlough and ordinary leave, on private affairs, to the officers of the army, have now been removed by the Commander-in-Chief.

AMONGST the matters awaiting final disposal by the Government, when its hands are free, is the Bombay foreshore qu estion. The representation made some time ago by the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, with regard to the liability to be accepted by the trustees of the port, will doubtless receive all the consideration to which it is entitled. The Pioneer thinks liberal concessions have already been made by the Government of India to the Port Trust of Bombay, and that the new trust will come into possession of a property of very great value—so valuable indeed that it is not improbable merchants will again in a few years get their landing and shipping business done for next to nothing, and this without injury to private rights.

ACCORDING to the Allahabad paper, Mr. Jenkins, C. S., who carried the Afghan treaty to Simla, is to be made a C. I. E. The decorations are not out yet, though it is expected that they will be in a day or two.

THE Political Agent at Bagdad reports that intimation has been given of the probable intention of the Turkish Government to prohibit the exportation of dates from Bagdad, as the crop there is very deficient this year.

LIEUTENANT G. M. YALDWYN, of the Commissariat, died of cholera after an hour's illness at Peshawar, on the 12th. At Safed Sang he had a sharp attack of typhoid fever, but seemed on a fair way to recover, when he was attacked by the more severe disease to which he succumbed.

The Civil and Military Gazette says :—We can now state authoritatively that it is not at present contemplated to withdraw any of the regular troops at present in the Kurram valley. The only returning troops are those of the Punjab Chiefs' Contingents. Neither will any of the troops now in Western Afghanistan return. Kandahar will be held until the season permits of safe marching.

THE Brigades breaking up, and the troops returning through the Khyber, have brought a heavy "spate" of officers into Peshawur, all anxious to get down country. The dak from Peshawur to Rawal Pindi and Jhelum is limited in its carrying power, so that very few can get off each day. On the 12th the post office authorities stated that the dak seats were on that date all engaged as far ahead as the 22nd. Some of those arriving and finding how matters stood were talking of continuing their journey on ekas or bullock carts.

THE Lahore paper publishes the following military items :—Lieutenant Liddell, R. A., and Lieutenant Brabazon, 10th Hussars, have been ordered back to their duties on the Viceroy's Staff. Surgeon-Major McKenna goes to the 43rd Native Infantry, his place in the 39th Native Infantry being taken by Surgeon Dawson. The appointment of 2nd in command 41st Native Infantry, during the absence of Lieutenant-Colonel Ekin on furlough, has been given to Lieutenant-Colonel H. St. G. Tucker, recently returned from the field, where he did excellent service on transport work. Colonel Howey has been appointed to the command of the Depôt, 23rd Pioneers, at Umritsar, relieving Major Chalmers, proceeded to Dalhousie. The usual furlough to the native army generally is opened, excepting for regiments on field service ; furlough extends to the end of November. The Staff officers with Brigadier-General Tytler's force are Major Kinloch, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General, and Major Gordon, Brigade Major.

WE publish to-day a letter addressed to the Calcutta Statesman, headed "Distress in Dacca," which gives a serious picture of the condition of the ryots in Eastern Bengal. The Statesman says "this letter is corroborative of much information we have already received from the same quarter, and we believe it is, in its main statements, perfectly true."

THE Bangalore Spectator says of the Simla Army Commission—It is notorious that the Madras and Bombay Presidencies have rarely had fair play, whenever Bengal was concerned ; and more especially has this been the case with the army. Bengal officers look with a very jealous eye upon the doings of the troops in this part of the country, and if they can, they monopolise all the commands that are to be given during a time of war. They profess to look down upon the two armies, and especially the Madras army, and they have all sorts of nasty things to say about it. We are afraid, therefore, that the two forces will have but scant justice dealt out to them. The committee consists of nine members, two of whom hail from Bengal, one from Bombay, and one from Madras, and it will be very extraordinary indeed if the seven do not act in direct opposition to the interests that are upheld by the two. The numbers ought to be more proportionate to the presidencies represented, and then there would be more chance of justice being done. We fail to see why there should be two civilians on the committee, and both Bengal civilians ; and the constitution of the body leads us to think that the whole affair has been cut and dried, and that the two officers from Bombay and Madras are merely called in for form's sake. It is almost certain that in a little time the disbandment of a number of regiments of the Madras army will take place, and it will be very remarkable if the representations of the officer who may be sent from the two presidencies will be of any avail.

WE regret to hear that a boat containing a lieutenant and thirteen men of H. M. S. Ruby, at present attached to the gunboat Irrawaddy, stationed at Thayetmyo, capsized. All hands were thrown into the water, and two were unfortunately drowned. The lieutenant and eleven men were clinging to the boat for upwards of two hours before they were rescued.

THE Rangoon Gazette hears from a Prome correspondent that about 700 families recently arrived at that station from Upper Burma, where taxation is becoming so oppressive that many more are expected to get away as soon as they can. At this rate we shall soon have the population of British Burma largely increased, and make up for the loss in numbers caused by Theebaw's proclamation some months ago, when thousands of the subjects of the King left the British side under the threats held out regarding their families in Upper Burma.

A RANGOON paper says there are whispers from Prome that a European Advocate of the 1st grade is likely to get into serious trouble for unprofessional conduct.

THE following account of the nice state of things at Mandalay appears in the Rangoon Review :—Though every thing is reported very quiet, the palace is said to be rife with intrigues. The elder queen has secluded herself so much that people regard her more as a nun than anything else. It was her intention to have 'taken the veil' a la Burmane on the death of the old King, but her mother's ambition came in the way, and she and her younger sister were given to Theebaw as wives. Although married to the King, she scarcely ever sees him ; and he, enamoured of the younger sister, has not disturbed the elder one. The younger sister has her lovers, and passes such time as the King is drunk in their company. One of these lately fled from the Golden City to Rangoon, and the young queen has sent down an old woman to see him, giving her a rich necklace of pearls to dispose of and expend the proceeds in inducing the timid favourite to return. No business is transacted with the King, as no one dares approach him except with fulsome flattery and lies.

PRINCE ALEXANDER of Bulgaria is making a tour of the European capitals, with the avowed object of exchanging views upon the internal and external position of the country under his charge. At Berlin the Emperor appointed his Highness honorary Major of the Regiment of Body Guards. The Prince has arrived in London, and has been invited by the Queen to visit her Majesty at Balmoral, whither he will be accompanied by his brother Prince Lewis of Battenberg, who is an officer in her Majesty's Navy. The Journal de St. Petersbourg says that the Prince will promise the strict observance of the Treaty of Berlin, and at the same time point out the conditions necessary for the maintenance of tranquillity in the East. These conditions, the Russian journal says, "include chiefly the faithful and thorough application of the constitution of Eastern Roumelia, the postponement of the entry of the Turkish troops into the province, and the settlement of the question of the Balkan frontier. It will further be necessary to give Macedonia an organization similar to that of Crete, to effect the demarcation of the frontier between Bulgaria and the Dobrudscha, to establish regulations for the navigation of the Danube, and to obtain the demolition of the fortresses."

To give some idea of the severity of the weather which lately prevailed in England, we give the following from the correspondence columns of the Times :—"Mountaineers and the public may be interested in hearing that there is yet (May 21) enough snow on Snowdon to enable the former to enjoy their favourite occupation within a few hours of London. The gullies which descend from the peak towards Glaslin are still full of snow, which in places even spreads out into miniature fields. This is most unusual at this time of the year."

ENGLAND is essentially a land of monuments. To Kings and Queens, statesmen, historians, military and naval heroes, philanthropists, and geniuses in every field where laurels are to be gathered, are monuments erected ; but the attainments which distinguish the sportsman, either in the ring or in the hunting field, have not yet been set forth either in bronze or marble. When Admiral Rous died it was thought by the frequenters of Tattersall's that a fitting opportunity had arisen to commemorate the worth of at least one well-known in the ring. The project fell through however : and amongst the many monuments with which England abounds, sport is still unrepresented. This state of matters will not, however, long obtain ; for we learn that at a meeting at Tattersall's presided over by the Duke of Buccleuch, it was decided to erect to the memory of the late Major Whyte-Melville a monument over his grave at Jetbury, and a drinking fountain at St. Andrew's, the place of his birth. It is true that to the general public Whyte-Melville was better known as a novelist than as a sportsman. But all his inspiration was drawn from the hunting field ; and the tally-ho of the horn, and the cry of the hounds, occupy very prominent positions both in his prose and his poetical writings. The report of the meeting, moreover, contains no reference to his excellence as a novelist ; so that in a few months we shall see the first monument to sport erected in England.

CAPTAIN BURNABY, according to the Canton (Ohio) Repository, is finding an imitator in the Western world. According to that authority a man passed through Canton on his way from Galveston, Texas, to New York, having ridden all the way on his Mexican mustang. On the 18th of March a party of three started, but not being imbued with the fidelity of Captain Burnaby's faithful Bradford, each of them retired at Kentucky. This man says he is "making the trip merely to see the country in a way it cannot be viewed otherwise!"

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I think in your issue of the 16th or 17th you say in one of the leaders that no cavalry was allowed with the Bombay column. So far from this being the case, the whole of the 1st Sind Horse, with the exception of one or two outposts, were handed over to General Phayre, and even those were really at his disposal. General Phayre is the last man in the world to work without cavalry ; and on the 15th January the head-quarters 1st Sind Horse proceeded to Dadur, where they were joined by 100 sabres from Sibi, and various outpost were called in, making the regiment up to 250. They also found all the outpost down the Shahpur road (the old transports road.) About the middle of March, the Bhahnis beginning to give trouble, the Sind Horse were ordered to Bagh, a central town of importance between Jacobabad and Dadur, a chain of outposts were established, and numerous were the Government camels stolen from Dadur and elsewhere recovered by the 1st Sind Horse. So far from the regiment not being out the outposts are still established. Several poor fellows have succumbed to cholera. A small detachment is with General Phayre at Thul, and had there been forage more would have gone.

THE BHAJE DACOITY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, JUNE 17.

ANOTHER dacoity case, which occurred at a village called Bhaje, in the Mawal talooks, was committed to the Sessions Court to-day by Dr. A. G. Frazer, the Railway Magistrate. In this case there are eight prisoners ; and the particulars of the dacoity are as follows :—It was committed at the house of a cultivator, named Trimbuck bin Luximon, on the 30th May last, about midnight. The complainant was sleeping with his family in the enclosed verandah. The door was struck with sticks, when he awoke. There were five dacoits outside, three of whom had small torches. They all had their faces bound up, and one of them, who had lived in the same village for three years previously, was immediately recognized. They beat at the complainant and his wife, and carried away a bag of ornaments, a garland of goddees, a nosering, vuzeeratack, and other gold ornaments. They had sticks only, but there was another gang of dacoits at a distance, from which direction the report of a gun was heard. All the accused made confessions before the third class Magistrate, Dr. Frazer, in committing the prisoners said.—I commit this case on the confessions made by the accused. These confessions implicate all the accused. The complainant recognized at the time of the dacoity accused Ranhoo. Accused Nos. 2, 4, 5 and 8 took the police to Bhoruz to point out the stolen property with accused No. 1, and stated before witness No. 12 that this was the property stolen in the dacoity at Bhaje.

Our next Criminal Sessions commence on the 7th proximo.

There was a very full attendance of ladies and gentlemen later in the evening, and the band of H. M.'s 4th Rifles discoursed sweet music at intervals. The Kirkee team commenced with their second innings, but owing to the lateness of the hour, only two of the players, Capt. Caldecott and Mr. Inglefield, were out. The former scored 12 and the latter 10, when the clock struck six and the stumps were drawn. After this the visitors and spectators enjoyed themselves by tilting at the ring and tent-pegging.

One tried in his confession to wriggle out, but this one was recognized at the time by the victim of the dacoity, to whom he is known as being in his employ. It was a daring dacoity, and committed by men not in want of the spoils of life, and for whom no sympathy can be felt. AN IMPORTANT INSURANCE CASE.—Two years ago the District Court at Kurrachee gave its decision against Mr. Thawurdas Khemchund, a well known merchant here, in a suit brought against him by Messrs. Nassur Ruttonsey and Jeevundas Purseram, carrying on business under the name of Motecmam Purseram, for the recovery of damages of the amount of Rs. 27,000, the value of a three-fourth share of the ship Futtal Mana, which was wrecked about 21 miles from Calicut on the Malabar Coast in July 1871. Major Grant, who was then Judge of the District Court, held it as clearly proved that the loss sustained by the plaintiffs in consequence of the wreck was directly attributable to defendant's neglect or misconduct in failing to insure the vessel, and therefore, on their arrival, he was distinctly liable to them. In August 1877, Mr. Thawurdas Khemchund appealed against this decision to the Sudder Court through Mr. Leggett, solicitor ; but as shortly afterwards Major Grant who had decided the case, was appointed to act as Judge there, the appeal did not come on for hearing until he left Kurrachee on leave, and Mr. Baker was appointed to act as Judge of the Sudder Court. Throughout the past week Mr. Baker has been occupied hearing the arguments in this case, of the respective counsel on both sides, and his decision is looked forward to with much interest by the native community.—Kurrachee Gazette.

THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION.

WE understand that Mr. N. M. Wadia is a candidate for the vacancy in the Municipal Corporation. His name has been proposed by Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart, seconded by M. Vouillon, of the French Bank. Mr. N. M. Wadia is, we think, in every way worthy of the appointment he aspires to. The prominent part he took in the ratepayers' organization for the introduction of certain reforms in the Municipality will probably not have been forgotten. We hear that he has already secured a large number of votes.

THE PICTURE CASE IN APPEAL.

THE Chief Justice and Sir Charles Sargent sat in the Appeal Court yesterday to hear, among other business, a motion for a stay of execution of the decree obtained by Dr. Burjorjee Dorabjee and his wife against Mr. G. W. Terry for damage done to the pictures of the former while they were in the custody of the latter as secretary to the last Bombay Exhibition. By a decree of the Court, dated 5th May 1878, Justice Bayley decided several issues in the suit in favour of Dr. Burjorjee ; and by a second decree given on the 2nd May 1879, his Lordship decided that Mr. Terry should pay Rs. 1,000 as damages in addition to the Rs. 150 paid by him into Court as admitted damages, together with Dr. Burjorjee's costs of the suit. From these decrees Mr. Terry has filed an appeal, and the motion was heard yesterday in connection with it. Mr. Lang, instructed by Mr. Hearn, Government solicitor, appeared for Mr. Terry, the appellant and defendant ; and Mr. Starling, instructed by Messrs. Muljee and Bomanjee, appeared for Dr. Burjorjee, the respondent and plaintiff.

Mr. Lang applied for a stay of execution of the decree of the 2nd May 1879, and for an order directing the respondent to deposit again with the Prothonotary the sum of Rs. 2,000 which had been refunded to him by the order of Mr. Justice Bayley, as security until the disposal of the appeal.

Mr. Starling said he had no objection to a stay of execution of the decree if Government undertook to deposit in Court the amount of the damages and costs awarded to his client by the Court below. Now, there was a resolution of Government in such cases to the effect that Government would pay the costs of the appellant's defence, but that the appellant should be held responsible for the costs of the respondent and any damages which might be awarded him ; so that the respondent had no security for the amount already awarded in his favour. Besides, the usual rule was that security was to be given by the appellant to abide the result of an appeal, and not by the respondent.

After some further discussion, the Appeal Court passed the following order :—The Government solicitor guaranteeing the respondent's costs in the Court below if the appeal goes in favour of the respondent, and on the appellant giving security for the damages to the satisfaction of the Prothonotary within a fortnight, let execution of the decree be stayed. No order was made as to the return of the Rs. 2,000 paid by the Prothonotary to the respondent. Costs of this motion to be costs in the appeal.

five and thirty years there has appeared ove heading, in the columns of a popular y, a paragraph fraught with the deepest est. Week after week have thousands who le themselves about the fluctuations of the ket, who wince not at the name of Tarks, withers are unwrung in the matter of Egypt th a curiosity which shows no signs of paragraph setting forth how much persons ceased and wealthy enough to leave a will quotation have died worth, and to whom levised their property. There is no viola- anctity of domestic life in divulging these particulars, since everybody who chooses to to the Prerogative Office, formerly at commons, may, for the small sum of one ad the will of anybody else, from the the meanest among testators—one illus- ament alone excepted. It is obviously that a careful selection of the more in- will should be made from the vast tamentary documents to which probate is granted, and that we should be enabled to mary of the fatest legacies of the week in s of a newspaper. Nor can the eagerness the periodical "Wills and Bequests" para- canned be held unnatural. Even as there are naters whose chief recreation is to go about to church to see other people married, so e poverty-stricken folks who derive a grim olation from the remembrance that Croesus all his gold ingots, his banknotes, his divi- nds, and his New River shares with him, that iled to leave his riches to somebody, and g the existence of any kith and kin—for is cannot by relations—he must be fain a poor his heirs, lest, dying intestate, his ld be swept into the coffers of the State. OXYGEN IS LIFE.
Although the modern Materia Medica includes many valuable remedies, it is a matter of certainly that in all cases where the animal vitality is failing, Phosphorus is decidedly superior to every other remedy at present known. It will work effects such as nothing else will produce, and it possesses the great advantage of not causing, when its use is relinquished, the slightest reaction or depression.
Until the introduction of Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne, Phosphorus was but seldom prescribed as a Medicine, owing to the difficulty in so preparing it that its action could be kept under perfect control. It had been used in Almond and Olive Oils, in Sulphuric Ether, in rectified Alcohol, in Chloroform, and in several other substances; but however valuable it has been found in all the hitherto known methods of its preparation, certain irregular results have been experienced, which have led Physicians to neglect it for general purposes, and to employ it only in extreme cases. But in the form of Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne, its invaluable action on the human system is realized without any of those drawbacks which previous modes of administration have invariably produced.
CAUTION.—PHOSPHORUS is sometimes sold in the form of Pills and Lozenges; it should be generally known that every form where solid particles of Phosphorus are in combination is highly dangerous. It is, therefore, necessary that the public should be cautioned against the use of any preparation of Phosphorus not perfectly soluble in water.

DR. BRIGHT'S
(OZONIC OXYGEN)
THE NEW CURATIVE AGENT, AND ONLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION, NERVOUS AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, AND ALL FUNCTIONAL DERANGEMENTS.
THE remarkable efficacy of Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne is now well known, and is acknowledged by the first medical men in Europe, by whom it is recommended as the most elegant and efficacious medicine hitherto discovered for Weak and Shattered Constitutions, Nervous Debility, Aversion or Incapacity for Study, Trembling of the Limbs, Indigestion, Female Complaints, Flatulence, Liver Complaints, Shortness of Breath, Drowsiness, Pains in the Head, Pimples, Impoverished Blood, and all diseases caused by a long residence in tropical climates, for which iron, mercury, iodide of potass, &c., are not only given in various forms, but very often to the destruction of the patient's health.
The beneficial effects of the Phosphodyne are frequently shown from the first day of its administration, by a remarkable increase of nervous power, with a feeling of vigour and comfort, to which the patient has long been unaccustomed, entirely overcoming that dull, inactive, and sluggish disposition which many persons experience in all their actions.

DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE
Is sold in cases at 10/6 or in Family cases containing one dozen 10/6 cases at £5 by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the Globe.
☞ PIRACY! CAUTION—Beware of a Worthless Imitation of Dr. Bright's (THE ONLY GENUINE) Phosphodyne and the only Medicine of that name recommended by the Medical Faculty.
Full Directions for use in the English, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Danish, Turkish, Persian, Hindustani, Madrassee, Bengalee, Chinese and Japanese Languages, accompany each case.
☞ CAUTION.—The large and increasing demand for Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne has led to several WORTHLESS IMITATIONS bearing similar names; purchasers of this medicine should therefore be careful to observe that the words "Dr Bright's Phosphodyne" are blown in the bottle, and that the directions for use are printed in all the languages as above, without which none can possibly be genuine. Every case bears the Trade Mark and Signature of Patentee.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE is patronized by the Aristocracy and the Elite, extensively used in the Army and Navy and strongly recommended by the leading Medical Practitioners.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the Native Languages.
The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the system which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every line in the United Kingdom.
Insurance Companies, Shipping Companies, Hotel-keepers, Merchants, Traders, and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the Public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.
There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines of Western India, native merchants, traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcement at Railway Stations a decided means of extending their business.
And as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY, and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destinations, placards exhibited at the different stations on those lines are every day becoming more and more valuable as means of bringing the Advertisers' business to the notice of the Public.
Advertisers can select the Stations, on either line, at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed in an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the Public.
Proposals according to the tastes of Advertisers, may be Printed at the "Bombay Gazette Press."
